

Today's Technology...Yesterday's Parenting

Event Details:

Guest Speaker: Lori Getz, Cyber Education Specialist

Date and Time: Wednesday, February 15th at 6pm in O'Ryan Hall

Join us for an evening lecture and open discussion about the next generation of technology. Our kids are already using it but are we keeping up?

Topics include:

- ◆ Where has all the privacy gone?
- ◆ Online attention and what it means for your kids
- ◆ Getting in front of them before they get in front of that screen
- ◆ A balancing act between parenting, monitoring and spying (new parental monitoring software that doesn't cross the line)
- ◆ Cyber-bullying, sexting and sextortion
- ◆ Internet addiction and multitasking behavior
- ◆ What's next for the iGeneration.

Even the most tech savvy parent will learn something NEW!

Lori Getz M.A. has joined us in the past to translate the rules of the physical world to the cyber-world. Now she will be presenting the next generation of technology, how it's being used and what we ABSOLUTELY need to know as parents!

Lori is an educator, mother, and Internet safety expert. She has appeared on the "Dr. Phil Show," "Today," "CNN," "Dr. Drew" and several other local news and radio programs (including the Ryan Seacrest show on KIIS FM). She often lectures live, speaking to parents, teachers and students across the country. Lori has been published in several areas including as the author of "Safety Kid™ on the Net" (an early education Internet Safety program), as an online expert for momlogic.com and most recently was featured in Rachel Simmons new edition of "Odd Girl Out." Her insight comes from both her professional and personal life working with children, tweens and teens.
